The PFJ Fails to Prohibit Anticompetitive License Terms currently used by Microsoft Microsoft currently uses restrictive licensing terms to keep Open Source apps from running on Windows.

competing operating systems.
Microsoft's enterprise license agreements (used by large companies, state governments, and universities) charge by the number of computers which could run a Microsoft operating system -- even for computers running competing operating systems such as Linux! (Similar licenses to OEMs were once banned by the 1994 consent decree.)
